

SHOW DECREASE IN NET REVENUE

C. & O. and N. & W. Earned More in September, but Expenses Were Heavier.

Figures issued yesterday by Comptroller L. P. Sullivan show that the net earnings of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway for the month of September are $48,447.98, which as compared with the same month of 1909, gross earnings were $1,928,653.16, as compared with $1,717,221.37, the same month of 1909. Net earnings for September decreased $227,501.68. Net earnings for September, 1910, were $1,084,612.51 for the same month of 1909, $1,133,990.52. Net earnings of the Norfolk and Western Railway Company decreased 2 per cent, or $2,089 during September, 1910, as compared with the same month of 1909. Total earnings for the month were $3,220,661.11, an increase of $187,319.78, or 6 per cent, over September, 1909.

As compared with a per cent increase in general revenues, expenditures increased 12 per cent, or $211,498.78. Total expenses for September, 1910, were $1,928,653.16, as compared with $1,717,221.37, the same month of 1909. Earnings for September show a steady and consistent increase from all sources, that is, from passenger, mail, express and freight, from the increase of expenses was for maintenance of way and structures, the figures showing an increase of 26 per cent, over the corresponding period of 1909.

FULLBACK PORTER CAROLINA STAR

He Will Figure Prominently in Saturday's Contest With V. P. I.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Chapel Hill, N. C., November 3.—The Georgetown game last Saturday, although it did result in defeat for the University of North Carolina, had one bright side for the supporters of the White and Blue in that it marked the return of A. L. Porter, last year's brilliant and smashing full back, to his playing form. Last season Porter was the best all-around offensive and defensive man in the Carolina squad, but until Saturday he had failed to show the strong qualities which caused some sporting writers to give him the all-South Atlantic selection. On the Hill top field Saturday he was the star of both teams. He failed to gain only once when called upon, and he was responsible for three out of every five tackles made by Carolina men.

BIBLE STUDENTS AGAIN TO PARADE

Six Thousand Expected to March Through Streets on November 20.

Considerable importance attaches to the announcement that the annual convention of the Federation of Men's Bible Classes will be held in the City Auditorium on the afternoon of Sunday, November 20.

Last year the meeting of the federation was the most notable of its kind ever held in the South. The attendance of 4,000 men afforded a great demonstration of the power of the work in which they are engaged and brought many new recruits to their ranks.

This year the parade and meeting is expected to be even more notable. The officers of the federation have reason to believe that from 6,000 to 8,000 men will participate.

In preparation for the great mass-meeting, the executive committee of the Federation of Men's Bible Classes of Richmond and its vicinity will meet in the lecture room of Grace Episcopal Church, on Foushee Street, next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. There are sixty-five classes already members of the organization, each of which has been requested to send three representatives to the meeting. It is understood that every Bible class in the city on both sides of the river is invited to do likewise, whether a member of the federation or not.

Aero Flights Postponed.
Norfolk, Va., November 3.—Owing to rain the final day flights of the aviation meet here were postponed until tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. There are sixty-five classes already members of the organization, each of which has been requested to send three representatives to the meeting. It is understood that every Bible class in the city on both sides of the river is invited to do likewise, whether a member of the federation or not.

Holiday—Davenport.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Davenport, Va., November 3.—A very quiet wedding ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's father, E. F. Davenport, here this afternoon at 2 o'clock, when his daughter, Miss Annie Vivian, became the bride of Frank J. Holladay. Rev. T. W. Ogden, the pastor, the wedding was attended by many out-of-town guests, and was one of the chief social events of the season.

"I Suffered Years With My Back."

Backache resulting from weak kidneys, a bad cold or other cause, usually renders the sufferer unfit for work and often results in permanent disability.

"I suffered for years with my back, or kidney trouble, and have tried a number of remedies from different physicians. More than a year ago, one of our local druggists induced me to try Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and after using them some three months I found a decided improvement in my kidneys, and I am glad to say that I hope soon to be fully restored to health." J. P. ALLEN, Ex-Judge City Court, Glasgow, Ky.

As long as pain is present in any part of the body rest is impossible and the system becoming weakened is exposed to any form of disease to which the sufferer may be inclined.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills by steadying the irritated nerve centers, make refreshing sleep possible, thereby enabling the body to recover lost strength. As a remedy for pain of any description Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are unsurpassed.

Sold by all druggists under a guarantee assuring the return of the price of the first box if no benefit results. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

After the ceremony the young couple were driven to Somerset, where they boarded a Southern Railway train to visit relatives in Fauquier county, after which they will return to Gordonsville to reside.

EDDIE COLLINS MARRIED.

Abraham's Second Baseman Weds Miss Dancy, of Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., November 3.—Eddie Collins, second baseman on the Philadelphia American League team, which recently defeated the Chicago National League club for the championship of the world, was married to Miss Mabel Harriet Dancy, Arthur M. Lee, Jr., of New York, who was a chum of Collins while the latter was a student in Columbia College, acted as best man.

The maid of honor was Miss Edna Matthews, of Lansdowne. Miss Hilda Miller, of Stephens City, Va., and Miss Anita Bagge, of Boston, were bridesmaids.

Confusing Type Error.
Some confusion has resulted from the transposition of one line of type in the Police Court record published in The Times-Dispatch on Wednesday. The name of Henry W. Rountree, Jr., who was charged with exceeding the speed limit in his automobile, got mixed with the report of another case, although the headlines and the correct Rountree notice showed clearly that the young man had nothing to do with somebody else's troubles.

Huffman—Vaughan.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Roanoke, Va., November 3.—Thurston Bell Huffman, of this city, and Miss Anna Pamela Vaughan, daughter of Livingston H. Vaughan, were married this evening in the Fifth Avenue Christian Church by Rev. R. E. Elmore, the pastor. The wedding was attended by many out-of-town guests, and was one of the chief social events of the season.

MORRIS POINTS TO FINE RECORD

Police Benevolent Association Growing Richer and More Useful Every Year.

NO EXPENSE AND NO GRAFT

President's Report Shows How Order Has Helped—New Committees.

From a start with absolutely no financial backing, the twelfth annual report of President L. Z. Morris, read before the Police Benevolent Association yesterday, showed that besides taking care of retired members there had been a credit of the institution $61,500. In presenting this the most creditable report since the foundation of the association, Mr. Morris said that he attributed its great success to the fact that it had always been conducted along the most businesslike and unselfish lines.

"There has been," he said, "no expense and no graft. We have worked together for a common end, and success has crowned our efforts. We were not giving out money and throwing away the money. When we want to go anywhere where the expenses must come from some source other than the treasury of the Police Benevolent Association."

President's Report.
Following is the annual report: The years follow each other so rapidly that we cannot recall the time when we were again assembled in annual meeting to hear the report of your officers and to take counsel concerning the affairs of our association.

No matter how often the story may be told it is none the less interesting to consider that a body of men have combined for the purpose of helping each other make the declining years of their comrades comfortable, and to guard against the sadness of all things in life, that being without means to sustain the last years of their earthly sojourn when they are no longer able to help themselves.

More than that, this association during the twelve years of its existence has demonstrated beyond a doubt that it was organized for the highest motives and has been conducted along safe and sure lines. Encouraged by no expectation of material reward and without assistance from either State or city government, the association has, nevertheless, grown from nothing until it now has invested funds amounting to $61,500. Our entire expense during the past year was $13, of which $10 was paid for the bond of treasurer and $3 for rent of box in safe deposit vault.

None Better Than This.
The Department of Commerce and Labor at Washington has compiled reports of similar organizations in all parts of this country, and after careful perusal of same, I can truly say that none has done any better and only a few as well as ourselves. In the majority of instances the dues from members of the force are supplemented by certain other sources, such as the State and city for the maintenance of the pension fund. Not so with us. Our funds are not augmented by government appropriations of any kind, yet we have shown that honesty and determination can be made to bring success when others have failed.

Our annual barbeque is the most convincing proof that the citizens are eager to show their approval of our methods. The last year's barbeque was better attended than any previous one. The cordial commingling of the officers and citizens on these occasions is an evidence that our people are in sympathy with you and feel that their lives and property are safe in your keeping.

As a citizen I do not hesitate to say that our police force is composed of men who can be trusted in any emergency and I may add that the fund which has been built up for their benefit has done much for the uplift of this responsible calling.

The grim reaper has indeed been busy in our ranks. Never before has such a long list of deaths been reported. Four of our pensioners departed this life during the year, viz.: J. H. Harris, May 1, 1910; J. T. Hall, June 25, 1910; E. P. Hulce, July 12, 1910; John L. Inegan, August 16, 1910.

The year has been a year of many years, and when compelled to retire from active duties were taken care of by us until their eyes closed in death.

Buried Six Officers.
Of the officers on duty the mortality was even longer, for you have buried six of your comrades since our last meeting: John Ogilvie, R. J. Brooks, W. D. Gorman, R. C. Smith, Charles A. Gibson, T. W. Matthews.

Sergeant Gibson was a member of our board of directors at the time of his death. All of those who passed away were buried in the most honorable and respectable manner.

I need scarcely apologize for pausing just a moment to say a few words about the late deceased, for they were all noble men. Without disparaging the services of any one, I am sure it will be conceded, that his example is a noble one. His association stimulated his comrades to like endeavor, and made the way easier for those who should come after him. May his memory be a blessing to us as we seek to keep it green by our memorial of him.

The report of our treasurer will give you our financial transactions in detail.

The Board of Police Commissioners are always kind and considerate. We work in perfect harmony, and the board recognizes and commends our efforts.

Few associations have more faithful officers than Captain George C. Pollock, our secretary and Sergeant Geo. H. Matthews, our treasurer. Both are always ready to do their duty, and are ever efficient in their discharge of duty. Thanks are also due to the chairman of the entertainment committee, Sergeant C. A. Sherry for his active efforts in our behalf.

The board of directors attend our meetings promptly and manifest the utmost interest in our business.

Now my friends I have nothing to say but that I am proud to be associated with you for your work in its behalf. Let us strive for the best in the path of those upon whom the honor of time has left its imprint, for soon we shall be called away. It is our part to do whatever we can for the help of others while we have opportunity.

Respectfully submitted,
L. Z. MORRIS, President.

New Members Elected.
Four members of the Southside force, Captain Wright, Sergeant Lipscomb and Policemen Moore and Jones, were reported as desiring to become members of the association, but were beyond the age limit for new members.

Secretary Pollock, saying that Messrs. Wright and Moore being slightly older than the by-laws required, moved that they be admitted as honorary members. Sergeant Zimmer later moved that Sergeant Lipscomb and Officer Jones be admitted despite their age, on the ground that they had been faithful and efficient officers besides being veterans of the Civil War. There was some discussion on Sergeant Zimmer's motion, but after a vote was taken, the members and directors had spoken, they were elected unanimously. This conference arose again, as all officers on both sides of the river are now members of the association, and new members must be under the age limit prescribed by the department.

J. M. Boyd, life member of the association and a member of the board of directors, spoke on the history of the association, and predicted a future even brighter. "I believe," he said, "that within the next ten years membership will be so large that we will be honorably discharged from the force and will be pensioned an amount equal to that which the active officers are now receiving, and that there will be no fear of their families suffering."

Satterfield Silent.
City Sergeant Satterfield was called upon, but his long seclusion seemed to have shaken his nerve. Being a new member of the association he felt that he could not talk, besides there was nothing to say. "Nothing to say," echoed President Morris, "to all these friends who provide you with a living."

This appeal was a little too much, and Mr. Satterfield arose and told the men that they were the greatest in the world, and that their association was the best. "In conclusion," he was full of humble gratitude. "There is no room for criticism. Satterfield has nothing to say. You sure have been good to Satterfield," he said.

The meeting was closed with a brief speech by H. Hawes, a life member and a director.

The board of directors will re-elect the present officers as follows: President L. Z. Morris; Treasurer Sergeant G. H. Matthews; Secretary, Captain George E. Pollock.

CUT DOWN THREE YEARS AGO FOR HIS CASKET
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Roanoke, Va., November 3.—Casket-makers were busy to-day at Stony Ridge making a coffin for Henry Proffitt, who died yesterday, aged thirty-five years. When Proffitt was a boy he cut down a large walnut tree on his father's farm, and it was from boards sawed out of the logs of the tree that the casket was made. Proffitt had jealously guarded the big slab, and it was his wish that they be used to make his coffin.

Will Vote on Bond Issue.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Roanoke, Va., November 3.—At the elections in Mingo county, W. Va., next Tuesday, the people of Lee district will vote on a bond issue of $50,000 for good roads.

Expert Shot in Town.
John W. Hessian, expert rifleman, is visiting his friend, S. Dorsey, syndor. Mr. Hessian was one of the best shot selected by the United States government to shoot in the Olympic games, held in England. The American rifle team came out winner. Many of Mr. Hessian's medals are now in exhibition in the show window of a downtown sporting goods store.

Wood

Is probably as high as it will be this season. I have enough already bought to take care of my trade, so don't be uneasy about an advance; but order now whatever you need. I have very nice Oak and Pine, also very thick Slab very cheap. Handle all kinds of Coal, too.
